Mr. Valentine Pasvolsky

Dear Val:

Your supplies are already in the mail. If you have not received them by now, you should very shortly.

In answer to your questions--yes, definitely points are given for exhibits at shows provided that the show occurs between 1 January 1967 and the date of submission of your report, and that they are not counted by a club. As far as exhibits accompanying talks or programs, they are not counted as exhibits, but if mention is made of them in connection with the talk, additional points will be awarded by the judges for the talk. Pictures, of course, will help the judges to better evaluate this type of activity.

The rules this year specify that only activities undertaken from 1 January 1967 until the date of your Coin Week entry may be counted in NCW 1967 competition. The reasons for this are varied, but essentially it gives everyone an equal starting date AFTER the rules and NCW promotional material have been mailed. It also gives the program a definite time for point gathering activities. The rules have varied in this respect from year to year.

If you have any other questions or if we may be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to write.

Best wishes for a very successful National Coin Week campaign, and for the New Year.

Sincerely yours,

Rick & Virginia Bronson

Dear Valentine:

Thank you for your recent letter concerning National Coin Week, 1967.

A letter and the rules for NCW, 1967 will be mailed to all clubs and requesting individuals November 1, 1966. We have added your name to the listing and you should receive a copy shortly after the 1st. We had planned to send to all those who participated this year, but are very happy to know that you intend to compete again.

Points for Coin Week activities will start accruing as of January 1, 1967. Most of the basic activities will be the same as for 1966-- exhibits, newspaper, radio, television, talks to different groups, recruitment of members for the ANA and other clubs and associations, etc. There will be some slight modifications to the point system, but if you wish to start on any of the items ahead of time this would be of assistance to you when the actual competition begins.

If we may be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to let us know. Good luck with your entry.

Sincerely yours,

Rick & Virginia Bronson
